Eight To Seek 2 Council Seats

Battye Surprise Candidate For City Treasurer's Job As Filing Closes

With noon today, February 28, filing closed at city hall for the April 8 city elections. All went according to schedule, except for one last minute entry.

Mel Battye, former Daly City councilman, filed to run for city treasurer. This surprise move caught most political observers off guard, as it was expected the incumbent, Paul Selmi, would have a clear, unopposed field. The city treasurer's job pays $75 a month.

As predicted earlier, there will be eight men seeking two seats on the city council. Six will run as "teams" while two are independents.

They include:

Incumbent Councilman Ed Mooney and Joe Verducci. Mooney is employed by the San Francisco Stock Exchange while Verducci, who resides at 118 Wilshire drive, is athletic director of San Francisco State college.

Edward J. Dennis and Henry Gross. Dennis is president of the milk wagon drivers union and a former city councilman. Gross is the founder of the Westlake special police patrol.

Thomas Tromborg and Del Wilson. Tromborg is a master plumber and pioneer resident of Daly City, while Wilson is a real estate broker.

Micky DeBernardi, an independent candidate, is the youngest man in the race and is employed by Hilltop Market.

George Wheeler, the other independent candidate, is a long time resident of Daly City and active in the Eagles.

City Clerk B. C. Ross will be unopposed in his bid for re-election to the office which he has held for the past 26 years.

BROADMOOR ANNEXATION Readers Assert Broadmoor Police Owe Much To Daly City Department

February 24, 1952

Editor
The Record
Dear Sir:

I have been following with increasing interest your coverage of the Annexation of Broadmoor to Daly City and wish to commend you and your reporter's efforts to bring a complete story of all sides in this issue.

If I may be permitted to, I would like to take exception to part of the article referring to the decision reached by the ten gentlemen who called a meeting to apparently make up the mind of the hundreds of Broadmoor residents interested in this question.

The part I refer to is the number one reason (?) on the list which states in part "Our Police protection is much better than that rendered to the newest addition of Daly City, Westlake."

If these ten gentlemen had only called on their own patrolman, I believe he would have, in all fairness to the Daly City Police Dept. corrected this statement before it reached the press. The facts are that if it were not for the Daly City Police Dept. giving the use of its radio service, at no charge, to the Broadmoor district, they would be sorely put to offer any "protection" whatsoever without keeping the patrol car tied up in front of their office and a man tied to the phone. You can readily see that this would render their "radio" car quite ineffectual.

Daly City maintains three radio cars, completely equipped and assigned to a definite district throughout the day. One of the districts happens to be the "new Westlake district." There is also a patrol special who has a route in Westlake (his car is radio equipped and serviced by the Daly City Police Dept. so that in case of an emergency he can call an Officer immediately). This coverage is on a 24 hour basis.

The Daly City city ambulance has many times rendered aid to

POLLS TO BE OPEN ONE HOUR LATER

Voters will have an extra hour to vote this year.

The city council Monday night upped the closing hour for the polls from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. in order to allow late home comers to vote. The new opening hour will be 7 a.m. instead of 6:30 a.m.

Jenkins Named Demo's Choice To Seek Assembly Seat From North County

Thomas Jenkins, Broadmoor attorney, will carry the Democrats' banner this year as he seeks to win the newly created north county seat in the state assembly. He was the surprise choice of county Democrats at their convention last Saturday. Jenkins told THE RECORD the choice has come as a surprise to him, although he was grateful for the support given him by county democratic leaders.

But all was not smooth at the convention, for another resident of this area, Joseph Gilmore, flatly told the demos he will not withdraw from the assembly race. He had expected to get the nomination.

Meanwhile, Peter Markovich, local real estate man, said today he will seek election to the assembly on a non-partisan ticket.

Tonight, February 28, the Republicans meet to select a challenger for Jenkins.

An active leader in civic affairs here, Jenkins is past president of the Broadmoor Property Owners Association; is now auditor exec-

BOCCI AND BECKER ONLY CANDIDATES

It appeared today that only two candidates will seek election to the judgeship of the new northern San Mateo county court.

Candidates have until tomorrow, February 29, to file their notice of intention necessary to qualify for the June primary.

Monday, Judge Thomas Bocci filed his notice of intention with the county clerk. Charles Becker filed Wednesday. At publishing time no one else had filed.

Asks Share Tax Dollar

(Ed Note: Number of residents present at Monday night council meeting: 30.)

Westlake residents are not getting a fair return from the city for their tax dollars, William Ziegler, 26 Parkwood drive, told the city council Monday night.

The director of the Westlake Property Owners Association, evidently speaking for that organization, went right to the point in a verbal exchange with Mayor Paul Green.

"So far, I can see nothing for our tax dollar," Ziegler said. "When it comes to transportation, recreation, police protection and so on, we don't seem to be getting very much."

Ziegler reminded the mayor that in January he had requested an estimate of what percentage of the total assessments for the city were in Westlake.

"I estimate about 27 1/2 per cent," Mayor Green replied. "I'm not going to run into the city clerk's office and run off a tape to get the exact figures, but that is my estimate."

With this answer Ziegler fired back: "Are we getting 27 per cent of the recreation facilities in Westlake?"

"No," the mayor said. "When can we expect our fair share?" Ziegler asked.

"Well, we plan to have a park," the mayor said.

"I've been in Westlake three years, and I've still to see this park. When are we going to get some action?"

Evidently disturbed, the mayor pounded his gavel several times. "That place isn't developed because we are waiting for the sewage treatment plant to go in there. When that's settled, we will put in the park."

The park is a 10-acre site at the intersection of Alameda boulevard extension and Lake Merced drive.

"When are they going to put in the plant?" Ziegler asked.

"The contract is out on the preliminary work, but the weather has held up the men," Councilman Fred Bertetta replied. Bertetta is a member of the new north county sewage district.

"In other words, if this work is done in 60 days, we can get bulldozers in there to make it at least usable for a park site," Mayor Green added.

However, the city has still to

Westlake Zoning Hearing Set For March 25

"Parcel H" Discussion Promised By Council

An open hearing on the zoning of "Parcel H," a 1/2-acre of ground at El Portal Drive and Cliffside Avenue, will be held before the city council at a special meeting, March 25.

Although the date was not definitely set at the regular council meeting last Monday night, THE RECORD learned from councilmen that it will be officially announced at the March 10 meeting.

Decision to hold the hearing followed a five minute exchange of questions and answers between the city council and A. H. Altman, spokesman for 224 residents who earlier petitioned the city to raise "Parcel H" from commercial to residential.

Presumption

Altman clearly stated he was anxious for a decision on the matter before the April 8 council election.

"We would like to hash this thing out before a new council takes over," Altman said.

(Mayor Paul Green noted the aspect of a new council was a "presumption" on Altman's part. Incumbent councilman Ed Mooney is up for re-election.)

Just what will be decided at the hearing is still undetermined. The 224 petition signers may have no legal right to ask that the zoning be changed to residential. City Attorney Frank Blum said this depends on the interpretation of the city zoning ordinance.

School District States Case For Increased Taxes

Residents Asked To Approve Measure

(Ed Note: Following is a copy of a letter sent to the presidents of the PTA units, members of the board of education and the school principals by H. Z. Weibel, district superintendent of the Jefferson elementary school district. We print it in part, for we feel it states the case for an increase in the school tax rate. Later this year taxpayers will have an opportunity to approve or reject the measure.)

Dear Friends:

... The statistics of costs and income for the District show the operating costs are materially below comparable districts. The other districts have had for some time a tax rate considerably above that of the local district.

In the Jefferson elementary school district since 1940-41 the average daily attendance (comparable to enrollment) has risen almost 150%. In the same period the operating costs have risen 350% due to increases in the number of teachers needed, teachers' salaries, added school building maintenance needs, rising costs of materials and equipment, and other increases.

With costs rising at a greater pace than the income for the dis-

BROADMOOR FLOOD CASE

Senator Knowland To Aid Victims

Senator William F. Knowland (Rep.-Calif.) today promised assistance to the Broadmoor families seeking to block any further flood damage to their homes.

In a letter to the distressed Broadmoor residents' attorney, Thomas Jenkins, Senator Knowland said:

"I am going to contact the Federal Housing Administration immediately in an effort to do whatever I can to assist."

The senator said he would contact Jenkins "immediately" upon receipt of the reply from the FHA.

"I hope Senator Knowland has more luck than we have had," Jenkins said today. "So far the local branch of the FHA has done little but pass the buck."

Basis for the difficulty is the contention by home owners on 87th street and Larchmont drive that Stoneson Brothers failed to put in the proper drainage system. As a result, they assert, their homes have suffered damage, and some are even in danger of sliding off their foundations.

Residents desire remuneration for their losses and some assurance that future flood damage will be checked.

To date they have received negative replies from Stoneson, the FHA, the bank carrying their loans and San Mateo county officials.

Park Differences To Be Ironed Out

Council To Meet With Recreation Group

City councilmen will meet soon with the Daly City Recreation Commission to straighten out differences revealed in THE RECORD last week.

George Pingry, commission chairman, met briefly with the council Monday night. However, neither he nor the City Administrator could tell the exact date of the meeting. "It will be sometime in the near future," Pingry said.

As reported earlier, the $101,000 parks program appears to have been slowed down for lack of cooperation between the two bodies. The commission asserts it makes recommendations that are rarely followed through by the council.

Meanwhile, the council failed to call for bids on four utility park buildings Monday night as recommended by the commission. Dan Andersen, city administrator, explained this was done as the plans submitted by the commission were not suitable to the city council.

"The commission calls for several floor plans," Andersen explained. "We think it can be done in a more economical manner with our plan."

COURT HEARS FIGHT OVER BRUNSWICK ST.

Whether the city is going to pay $4,465 or considerably more for the property involved in the extension of Brunswick street is being decided today by the district court of appeals.

The court heard an appeal Monday by H. H. Smith, owner of the property, for a new trial and, consequently, more than the $4,465 awarded him last year by the superior court. He is asking $125,000, including damages, for the controversial strip.

Frank Blum, city attorney who represented the city Monday, said a decision should be forthcoming "very shortly."

Meanwhile, all work has stopped on the street extension pending a hearing on an injunction Smith obtained against the contractor. Daly City's former mayor asserts the cut is endangering the land he owns on either side.

News And Pictures Of Son In Korea Brought To Parents By The Record

The first word a Daly City mother and father have had since last Thanksgiving about a soldier son fighting in Korea was brought to them by a reporter for THE RECORD last Friday, Washington's birthday.

When the reporter showed the above picture to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chelossi, Sr., of 344 Citrus avenue, it was the first they had seen or heard anything about him since he sat with them at the Thanksgiving dinner while on furlough from Camp Stoneman.

Mother, Brother Overcome
Mildred Chelossi, the mother, was overcome with emotion when she glanced at the picture of her son manning the machine gun. She eagerly took the picture from the willing hands of the reporter, kissed her boy's picture and tearfully pressed it to her emotion-flushed cheek.

John P., five, the soldier's baby brother, was impatient to have a look at his hero—the fighting man in Korea. An observant eye could easily detect that the boys eager, almost frantic gaze fairly soaked up the likeness of his brother in war action.

The father of the pictured soldier, Louis, Sr., was just as overjoyed at this photographic sight of his son and of the news that his boy was alright.

Mother Has Been Anxious
Mrs. Chelossi had become anxious when she hadn't heard from her soldier-son for many months. She had recently written a letter of inquiry to the Adjutant General of the Army in Washington. She had been advised to do so by the Red Cross, where she had first sought some information about her son.

In the letter the Adjutant General had written in reply to Mrs. Chelossi's inquiry, received only a couple of days before, he had informed her that he was notifying Private Chelossi's commanding officer to advise the young soldier to communicate with his parents. And then came the reporter. ...

Chelossi Local Athlete
Private Chelossi, before enlisting in the Army for a four-year hitch in January, 1951, had been a basketball star and had earned quite a reputation as a boxer in this area.

He is 20 years of age and attended Jefferson Union high school before going into the service.

He has three brothers living at purchase the property from the Henry Doelger Co. No allotment was made in the 1951-52 budget for this, although it probably will be in the 1952-53 budget coming up shortly.

The mayor then came up with another solution to recreation facilities. "I think the best thing to do, at least for the time being, is to work out a plan with the Jefferson elementary school district to use the playground at the new Westlake school."

Ziegler appeared satisfied with this answer, and then turned to the problem of police protection. "We have inadequate protection, and the situation is becoming increasingly difficult."

Mayor Green was of a different opinion: "I think you are getting fair protection. The police report Westlake only averages 1 1/2 calls a day. That is as good as any other part of the city."

At this point Councilman Bertetta reminded Ziegler that the tax bill to watch was the county assessment. "With this blanket 50 per cent increase in assessments all our tax bills are apt to go up. We will have to keep an eye on the county, or suffer the consequences."

In conclusion Ziegler observed that he and other Westlake residents were only asking for a fair return for "our tax dollar."

This was the highlight of the council meeting which also saw:

1. A petition from 14 residents in the 100 block of Frankfort street asking the city to take action to clean up recent mud brought down by heavy rains. They also requested the city have bulldozers in the area remove litter and rubbish from empty lots. The mayor said every "reasonable" effort would be made to remedy the situation, and asked City Administrator Dan Andersen for a progress report at the council's caucus meeting Monday night.

2. The hearing on granting a taxicab permit to James Wooten was closed. The mayor said Wooten had opened a stand in Broadmoor and had not complied with the council's request to set up a permanent place of business. While the mayor recommended denying the permit, the other councilmen said more evidence should be obtained before this final step.

3. The city taxi cab rates were set at 50c for the first one-half mile and 10c for each additional one-quarter mile.

4. Mrs. Smith of 449 Santa Barbara requested more police protection for the Jefferson high school after school events. She reported her daughter had been molested by high school boys at a recent basketball game. She also asserted this had happened to other girls several times before. Mayor Green said he would take the matter up with the police department.

5. The salary of the city clerk was set after April 8 at $450 a month. This represents a $250 monthly increase.

6. The Ralph Larsen Co. was given a progress payment of $1,552 for electrical work on the Community Center building.

7. March 10 was set as the day for opening bids on a water pressure valve for the Westlake water system.

through with his bid to aid the residents. This week, he told THE RECORD, he will file a claim against San Mateo county for three of the 12 residents. He will ask $14,000 damages for each resident.

"This is by way of a formality to protect their rights," Jenkins explained.

He indicated that later his clients will bring suit against the county and "other interested parties."

Meanwhile, Jenkins says he is preparing his case to present to a special congressional committee which will be in San Francisco the first of April to investigate the FHA and loans they guaranteed for private builders.

er (in this case, Henry Doelger) can petition for such a change is doubtful," Blum said. "The council, as far as I have been able to determine, does not have jurisdiction in this matter."

Altman then asked if there were any means at all whereby the city could change the zoning without a petition from the owner.

"Yes, the council by a resolution of intention, can up the zoning," Blum said.

Decision

Later the city attorney told THE RECORD that such resolutions are "very rare," and questionable as to final legality.

Charles Becker, Westlake attorney, asked if the hearing was held March 25 whether or not the council would have time to take any action before the election.

"Yes, this could be done by a special meeting, or on the very day of the hearing," Blum replied.

Altman said he would press for a decision before the election, and immediately following the hearing, if possible.

COLMA PARACHUTIST IN "EXERCISE SNOW SHOE" AT ARMY CAMP

Pvt. Edward G. Perrins of 1515 Sweetwood drive, Colma, is participating in Exercise Snow Fall, the joint Army-Air Force winter maneuver now in progress at Camp Drum, N. Y.

He is a member of the 11th Airborne Division's 511th Regiment, a highly-trained unit which also took part in Exercise Southern Pine last summer.

The current exercise, involving more than 30,000 soldiers, is designed to teach techniques of arctic warfare and to test winter equipment. Fort Campbell, Ky., is the home station of the division. Perrins, a driver in the Service Company, entered the Army on January 29, 1951, and graduated from Fort Campbell, Ky., Parachute School on July 20, 1951.

Before entering the Army he attended Jefferson Union high school and San Mateo Junior college.

Candidates To File For School Boards

Peter J. Markovich, local insurance man, today said he will seek re-election to the Jefferson high school board of trustees, May 16.

Mrs. Ann Eason, the only other member of the board up for re-election, has intimated she, too, will be a candidate.

Another possible candidate is Elio Fontana, former president of the Daly City Lions Club.

Mrs. Helen Cheatham, only member of the elementary school board whose term expires this year, has not indicated whether she will seek reelection. Claude Hanrahan, Broadmoor police commissioner, is rumored to be a contender for Mrs. Cheatham's post.

Closing date for filing for either board is April 16.

The Army and Air Force offers free food, clothing, lodging, medical and dental care, and legal assistance.

School District States Case For Increased Taxes

trict, only two alternatives are possible:

1. To reduce expenditures by reducing services and personnel.
2. To increase income which can only be accomplished through an increased tax rate.

Obviously the first alternative is neither desirable nor practical since the operating costs of this district are materially below those of comparable districts.

If an election were held and a $150 tax rate voted, the 60c additional tax rate would cost the average taxpayer $6.00 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, or on the average assessment of $2000.00—$12.00 per year, or $1.00 per month. With the high percentage of veteran's exemptions in the local district, the $2000.00 valuation average seems conservative.

We have been informed that the Assessor's Office is now in the process of equalizing the tax roll in accordance with the directive of the State Board of Equalization and will add 50c to the current valuations. If and when this comes about the local district will have an assessed valuation of near $27,000,000.00 for 1952-53.

This increased valuation, without an increase in the tax rate, will add additional income in 1952-53, but still will not provide income sufficient to operate the schools with the kind of services the patrons of the district seem to want for the children.

Using the amount of money spent per pupil as a measure for determining the kind of educational opportunity provided it would seem the children in the Jefferson elementary district were short-changed in 1950-51 and are getting the same treatment in 1951-52. In 1950-51 it cost $150.91 per pupil in average daily attendance in this district. The costs in comparable districts were as follows:

San Carlos, $197.05; San Mateo, $183.81; Redwood City, $178.28; Burlingame, $250.91; Ravenswood, $195.13.

The inadequacy of school housing for the pupils in the local district creates many problems which would not exist if adequate housing were available and if double sessions and extensive bus transportation could be eliminated. Adequate school housing will not be available for many months so the need for the services which are lacking is all the more imperative.

Very truly yours,
H. Z. WEIBEL

Local Dentists Launch Dental Care Campaign

The San Mateo County Dental Society is inaugurating a new endeavor designed to improve the dental health of our county.

In the late 1930's a plan for the care of welfare patients was begun and has been giving wide acclaim throughout the state. During the late 1940's steps in dental health education were made with the organization of a committee of dentists acting as a speakers bureau, which produced radio programs designed and broadcast over a local station to inform the parents and their children the ways of personal care would reduce dental disease.

The demand for speakers was so great and since the dentist serving on this committee was required to take time out of his office to meet speaking engagements to PTA service groups, women's clubs, etc., sub-committees were formed. One sub-committee is informing citizens of the county the need and value of fluoridation of the communal waters and is aiding the citizens wherever possible to get their water fluoridated.

One more step of progress to help the people of San Mateo county is the inauguration of the "First Annual Dental Seminar." Our society has invited five of the outstanding men in dentistry to speak before us, each a credit to the profession he represents. The afternoon meeting begins with a presentation by Dr. Lowell Peterson, chairman of the Division of Periodontology at College of Physicians and Surgeons discussing the management of diseases of the gums and supporting tissues, and illustrated lecture with slides before and after treatment.

The evening guest lectures will include Dr. William Colburn, class of 1910 of College of Physicians and Surgeons, lecturer and author of two books, and will speak on Denture Prosthesis.

Dr. Irwin Beechen, pedodontist, chairman of Children's Dental Health Week 1952 for Northern California and member of the Board of Directors of American Board of Pedodontics will discuss problems in children's dentistry. Dr. H. Patrick Donnelly, Diplomate American Board of Oral Surgery, Consultant Veterans Hospital, San Francisco, Assistant in research at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, will lead the discussion in Oral Surgery.

I believe the Broadmoor patrolman could enlighten the ten gentlemen on the number of times they have used the Daly City jail for any prisoners they may have.

And last, but not least, the Daly City Pound has been and is used by the Broadmoor Police at no services are rendered without any

This letter is already too long, so I suggest that the ten gentlemen have another meeting and call in someone who can give them a better picture of the situation. Take a tip gentlemen, it will save you a bucket of money in the long run to get into a city that has so many FREE services to offer.

A sincere suggestion to the good people of Broadmoor, for goodness sake, get annexed to this city and don't always be on the outside looking in.

An Election Platform

While THE RECORD maintains a non-partisan attitude toward city council candidates, we believe it our duty to champion civic improvements.

We say all council hopefuls would do well to adopt the following constructive program. And where some may disagree with our solutions, it is to be hoped they at least will consider the problems and possibly come up with better answers.

TRANSPORTATION

Unless you own three automobiles, you and your family are well aware of the crying need for adequate transportation.

Daly City is one of the fastest growing communities in the Bay area, but its transportation system is as antiquated as the short skirt.

And things are going to get much worse. As we depend on San Francisco for most transportation, and as that city is faced with a crisis of its own, the Daly City service will be the first to be cut.

Westlake's Henry Doelger has done a job of meeting the emergency in Westlake by employing outside, private help. But this is only a stop-gap measure.

We believe there is only one solution...a Daly City bus company.

CITY COMMISSIONS

Much of the criticism leveled at the present administration can be laid to the phenomenal growth of Daly City.

The city has grown too large, too complex, for a five man, part time council to properly administer.

What is needed is a modified commission form of government.

We recommend the city set up a police commission and the following three or five man commissions: fire, parks and recreation, planning and library.

These bodies would act in an advisory capacity to the city administrator and city council. They would be selected from the citizens at large for honesty, ability and understanding.

However, in the case of the police commis-

We are aware a municipal owned system was tried out here and went flat on its financial face, 10 years ago. However, we point out this was before Daly City's growth; before we were adding families at the rate of 20 or more a week; before the city was spread out over many miles.

Another difficulty with that first try was the city attempted to run the system.

We assert only a privately owned bus line would solve the problem. It would not be difficult to get plenty of individuals anxious and capable of financing such a system.

What is needed? Little more than two or three shuttle busses, at least for the present. They could service the major sections of Daly City, including Westlake. It might also be possible to help finance the measure by bringing in Colma and Broadmoor.

sion we recommend that they be given stronger powers...be in a position where they are not depending on the whims of the council. This, we believe, would do away with the situation which helped to foster recent book making activities here.

We would recommend, too, that at least one councilman, and wherever possible the city administrator as well, attend each meeting of the commission. This would keep them in closer contact, would avoid the recent mixup as demonstrated with the present recreation commission.

And above all the commissions should have enough power to be heard, to be respected. We can visualize nothing worse than a group of such commissions acting as dummies for politicians.

PARKING FACILITIES

Daly City's local businesses are losing a good many dollars these days for lack of proper parking facilities.

This is not to advocate taking out the parking meters—they create more real parking space than they destroy—but rather off-street parking. A lot, or lots near the business section would solve the parking problem which has resulted in many shoppers favoring larger, super shopping centers.

While the number of such parking places is necessarily limited, there are, nevertheless, a few to be had. They should be snapped up before it is too late.

We recommend the council candidates call for a survey to be made to study this problem...a problem which if not solved, may one day reduce the "top of the hill" shopping district to a row of empty buildings.

FIRE AND POLICE QUARTERS

While Daly City's fire department is one of the best in the Bay area, it is no secret that it is now working up against a real handicap. For lack of proper facilities in Westlake, the fire ladders are not in a position to meet a first class fire should it break out in that section.

The city has already taken steps to build a Westlake station, but this has hardly got past the planning stage. We grant things like this move slowly, but unfortunately fires wait on no man.

And should other Daly City residents feel such a station is not necessary, we remind them that everyone is affected. A local insurance man, who should know, reports fire insurance rates are sure to go up here unless the Westlake fire house is built.

We also repeat that the Westlake fire house might serve a dual purpose. Present facilities for the local gendarmes are too confining, and certainly far below standards. THE RECORD suggests the fire house be expanded to take in a new police station. This could be done at little additional cost.

PARKS

Daly City has been in the progress of adding and improving parks for over the past two years.

We think the time has come to finish the job, at least the project launched with the passing of the $101,000 parks improvement program.

What is needed is closer cooperation between the council and the Recreation Commission; and what is more important, real planning instead of haphazard spending.

The plank in any candidate's program should

COMMUNITY CENTER

Unquestionably the political football of this year's council race will be the Community Center building. This is unfortunate, as we believe the building is a real asset to the community, and certainly worth completing.

We are of the opinion residents will pass a second bond issue to do the job properly. However, with one reservation...they want to know where and how the original funds for the building were spent. Once more, they wish to be certain a second bond issue really will complete the job.

We believe every candidate should pledge

Red Cross Fund Drive Opens This Month

Local Quota Set At $2,950

Give at least "a penny a day" will be the plea of the 3,000 solicitors who will fan out over the county on March 1st, the day set for opening of the 1952 Red Cross Fund Drive, both nationally and locally.

A national goal of eighty-five million, the same as last year, is to be raised by 3,700 chapters. The San Mateo county chapter American Red Cross goal is also the same as 1951, $135,000.

"Despite mounting responsibilities," Dan Minto, Chapter Chairman, said today, "we are able to hold our goal at this figure through practice of rigid economies in operation. Red Cross services to the armed forces are increasing as the military is brought to a strength of nearly four million men, our blood program must continue to expand, and our activities in safety and health education cannot be relaxed."

"Our chapter instead of conducting a separate disaster drive, sent $5,000 from operating fund to aid in the midwest floods, for which National Red Cross spent fourteen million dollars, completely depleting its disaster reserves. When a volunteer solicitor calls on you we urge you to be generous. YOU ARE the Red Cross. YOU make possible the work of this organization which is carried on largely by volunteers. We cannot break faith with the millions who depend on Red Cross."

Charles Becker, over-all chairman for Daly City, and Mrs. Margaret Pauline Brown, over-all chairman for Colma, urge local residents to make every effort to raise their communities' goal of Daly City $2,950.00, Colma $2,125.

Senator Knowland Opens '52 Campaign

William F. Knowland's bid for a third term as California's senior United States senator was off to a successful start in San Mateo county this week.

Members of the county-wide Republican fact-finding committee cast a unanimous ballot urging his re-election, after P. W. "Tom" Brubaker had pointed out that "it is of the utmost importance we continue to have seniority in the Senate."

Brubaker cited Knowland's membership on three major Senate committees—Atomic Energy, Armed Services and Republican Policy.

Knowland, former California state assemblyman and senator, was first appointed by Governor Warren in 1946 to serve the final two years of the late Hiram Johnson's term. He was re-elected to a full term by a wide margin in 1948.

Highway Relocation Plan Under Study

REDWOOD CITY—San Mateo county delegates to the state highway commission are agreed that the latter body looks favorably upon the relocation of defective portions of coast highway No. 1. This seems to be the result of the delegation's meeting with the state body recently.

Supervisor Chairman Alvin S. Hatch, treasurer-director of the joint highway district No. 9, has expressed the opinion that the relocation given the local delegates, when they presented factual photographs showing the breaks and slips in the roadway at Thornton bluff, north of Edgemar, was such that no objections will be raised to the proposed relocation.

The state commissioners, said Hatch, did not raise any objections when the problem of the financial difficulties was raised. The matter, the local delegates were promised, will be taken up with George McCoy, state highway engineer, after the full state commission discusses it at length.

More Members Needed For Juvenile Staff

REDWOOD CITY—The chairman of the San Mateo county probation department, J. Ed McClellan of Burlingame, has asked for an addition of ten persons to his staff to handle the increase of juvenile cases brought to the attention of the department.

Besides the additional personnel, Mr. McClellan has requested in his report to Juvenile Judge Aylett R. Cotton an "in service" psychiatric counseling service at the Hillcrest detention home here.

Specifically, Mr. McClellan has asked that, included in the increase, there be two male probation officers for the dependency division and the adoption department; two male assistant probation officers to work at Hillcrest;

Council Candidates Speak

(Following are statements made by candidates for the city council election, April 8. THE RECORD had requested statements from each candidate, but these were the only ones submitted.)

Tromborg -- Wilson Promise To Serve The Community

Two Men Supported Only By The People

Thomas Tromborg and Del Wilson today reiterated they are seeking election to the city council April 8 for no other reason than to serve the people of the community.

"We have the support of no pressure group, nor are we seeking such help," Tromborg said. "The only support we want is from the voter who is fed up with lack of representation on the city council."

Wilson noted that neither he nor Tromborg are "professional" politicians. "We simply feel there is a need for representation of the people by the people."

Although both men said they will make no wild promises that they cannot make good after the election, they asserted they are for anything to really help the growth of Daly City.

Tromborg said it was time to realize that Daly City is no longer a whistle stop, but one of the fastest growing communities in the Bay Area.

"We are faced with problems peculiar to any city that is growing as fast as ours," Tromborg said. "When elected I and Wilson promise to solve these problems, not to shelve them for years to come."

Transportation, recreation, city administration, water and street problems, are just a few of the things the two men promise to study and come up with a frank answer.

Mooney -- Verducci Take Stand For Progressive Govt.

Candidates Pledge Civic Improvements

Councilman Ed Mooney and Joe Verucci today pledged to carry on a progressive civic improvements program when elected to the city council April 8.

As the only incumbent candidate, Councilman Mooney is in a position to truly understand the many civic problems and their solutions. Verucci, an outstanding athletic director and teacher, will bring to the council the guiding hand needed for successful completion of the recreation program here.

"When re-elected I promise to carry on the program I have so strenuously supported for the past four years...a program whose basis is efficient, fair government," Councilman Mooney said.

Both Mooney and Verucci today thanked the scores of leading citizens and organizations which have pledged support of their candidacy.

"It is gratifying to know the people are behind us," Verucci said. "I am certain every home owner who desires to build a progressive, prosperous community will support our platform."

The two men, representing all sections of the greater Daly City area, observed they will conduct a clean campaign based on the theory that voters wish to here constructive suggestions rather than destructive mudslinging.

Councilman Mooney said he and Verucci will shortly come out with a political platform which they believe is certain to meet with the approval of all thinking voters.

Citizens Group To Support Bid Of Dennis -- Gross

Civic Leaders Pledge Support Of Program

Edward J. Dennis and Henry Gross today announced the appointment of a citizens committee to support their candidacy for election to the city council April 8.

The civic leaders who have pledged their support to the Dennis-Gross campaign are: Tony Ricci, chairman; Bert Meritt, Emmett Campion and Fred Kruse.

All these men have complete understanding of both business and labor affairs, Dennis said.

Meanwhile, Dennis and Gross today reported they have received many favorable comments for their election to the council.

"Voters say we need 'new blood,' and note the 'yes, yes' attitude that sometimes gets into our city councils," Gross asserted.

The aforesaid citizens committee will endeavor to contact all voters, either personally or by circulars, who feel the importance of electing competent men such as Dennis and Gross.

Slogan for the Dennis-Gross campaign will be: "For efficient government."

"We feel this sums up our whole campaign," Dennis said. "And, too, we are certain efficient government is the one thing every voter desires."

DeBernardi Says Time For Change At City Hall

Independent Candidate Speaks Frankly

Micky DeBernardi today made the following statement concerning his bid for a council seat at the April 8 election:

How do you feel about your city government?

If you are like me, you will say: It's time for a big change at city hall.

Why is it then that you, the voters, always seem to want good government, but when election time rolls around you always elect the big money candidates?

After all, if I came to you and got a contribution of $500 for my campaign, after election time was over you would want some kind of favor for your money. If this be true, how can a candidate elected on these terms give honest and impartial representation to the voters?

At the April 8 elections you will have a chance to vote for a truly independent candidate, with no type of financial backing but his own. There will be no pressure groups tied to me.

I promise honest and impartial representation for the voters.

From A Corner

By Bill Katz

As the majority of Americans who dream of slipping some "loved one" a dose of arsenic or a knife in the back, we might tune in our crystal set to the who-dunn-it.

This frequent dip into verbal blood-baths has somewhat altered our conception of the woman's place in society. We believe most women are dull, plodding creatures serving the very useful purpose of cooking, raising children and providing solace for the male. However, every theory has exceptions, and ours can be found over the radio waves.

Here, on the "murder will out" productions, the gals are the reigning queens. And, except for an occasional masculine cohort, they reign alone and supreme.

The only possible exception is the roll of detective. While women are the world's best snappers, most of their detection is based solely on malice and a lack of logic equivalent only to the theory of equal rights for women. Consequently, in the very logical process of crime detection, they are miserable flops.

Victims

As victims they are most satisfying. In a recent poll we discovered nine out of 10 killers prefer to administer cyanide to women, preferably their wives. The motives here are usually the same...a desire on the part of the murderer to regain the peace and quiet of bachelorhood. Unfortunately the moral codes of the networks make it mandatory for the killer in these cases to be caught.

Then, too, a woman going down for the final count can admit a scream and an "Oh, no, John, not that!" of more verisimilitude than a male victim. Maybe it's the actors, but we have still to hear a bass voice than can admit an appealing death rattle.

The Killers

It is as killers where the women really take over. Until a few years ago it was unfashionable to admit the gals capable of parting the hair of a victim with an axe or 45 slug. But with the advent of Hollywood and radio, the fashion has changed; and for the best, we believe.

Basically, women are less civilized than men. Men must have a sound reason whether it be for money or power for pumping bullets into a victim. (Inexcusable is the gentleman who lowers himself to killing for a woman. We hastily turn this type of radio program off, for it is based on nothing but romanticism and hog wash.)

known lost control of her scheming mind long enough to do anything without first essaying the pros and cons. Passion, as commonly understood as action without premeditated thought, is almost unknown to women.

We favor the gentle voiced creature whose actions follow those of Eve's munching on an apple. She knows exactly what she is doing, but has no true conception of why it is wrong. She pouts when caught and usually (although this never makes the air waves) slips out with little but a vacation in jail.

This latter type is woman personified. She comes into her true glory over a radio network as she gently slips her kitchen knife between the ribs of friend hubby. Long may she stammer through scripts, if only to prove the woman really does have a useful place in the American home.

South City Warriors Squeak Past Jefferson Indians For 38 to 39 Win

By RAY SCHMITKE

The old saying that anything goes in a rival game certainly proved its point in the affair between the Jefferson Indians and the South San Francisco Warriors. The game which was played last Thursday 21 on the blue and white SSF hardwoods, was a hair raising tilt that ended in a 38 to 39 South San Francisco favor.

The game in itself was a spectacle of an enjoyable evening. Both teams entered the contest with a 5 and 5 record and likewise both teams were out to display their own personal candidates for All-PAL.

The Warriors chose Gene Ratto, hard striking, quick moving forward; and on the other side of the fence Don Delbon was prepared to show his style. However, a dark horse claimed stand-out-

Reader Asks: "Is The San Francisco D. A. Encouraging Juvenile Delinquents?"

The Record
Daly City, Calif.
To the Editor:

Is the San Francisco District Attorney's Office encouraging juvenile delinquency?

Early today a neighbor's son threw two rocks through my study window. My wife called the local Broadmoor Village policeman, who was very courteous and helpful, and reported the incident. The policeman after trying to settle the matter reported to us that the parents absolutely refused to pay for the damage. The reason for this refusal being (and get this) that the father called the district attorney's office and was assured that he was not liable for damages done by his infant son.

Mind you, this was not an accidentally tossed ball, but maliciously thrown rocks, and this after our repeated pleadings with these parents to check their children's destructive trespassing. Now, what puzzles me is this, since the five bucks for the broken window didn't come out of this parent's pocket and he gets such comforting advice from the San Francisco D.A.'s Office, will he take the time to teach his son that such acts are wrong and illegal and not proper for an American Citizen?

Perhaps I was born thirty years too soon but when I was a child a broken window meant a trip to the woodshed and parents were happy to repair any damage done by their children so as to maintain friendly neighborhood relations.

But if a parent can avoid paying for the damages of his child by the reassurances from the D.A.'s office that "parents are not liable for the torts of their children" and brazenly convey such notions thru the police in the presence of their children, to the injured party, then let me ask again: Is the San Francisco D.A.'s office encouraging Juvenile Delinquency?

JUDGE BOCCI URGES RED CROSS SUPPORT

Judge Thomas Bocci today urged northern San Mateo county residents to make every effort, this month to give at least "a penny a day" towards the $135,000.00 County Red Cross goal.

As past general chairman for the Daly City area, and assistant chairman this year in the Broadmoor-Colma District, Judge Bocci is in a good position to realize the importance of the Red Cross to local residents.

"A donation to the Red Cross is the wisest investment anyone can make," Judge Bocci said. "No organization is such a part of American life, such a comfort to millions."

Jeff an added score, the Warriors still managed to keep ahead of the game Indians. The score stood 30 to 35 South SF at the close of the third portion of play.

Under the leadership of Delbon and Wilson the fourth and final frame found that the two lads toted two field goals apiece to move ahead for Jefferson 38 to 37 with just seconds remaining left to play. Gene Ratto soon put a stop to the unbalanced score by dropping in a set shot from 15 feet out to move up the ladder by one point, and as the clock ticked the game into the past, found that the one point was sufficient to claim the game for South San Francisco.

Lions Hear About Family Vacations

Family vacations should be regarded as an investment, Carol Lane, nationally known travel authority, declared at the weekly luncheon of the Daly City-Colma Lions Wednesday noon.

"Travel not only contributes to the health and harmony of the family group," she said, "but it is a way of making the most of such other investments as a home, car and education."

Miss Lane, women's travel director of Shell Oil Company, pointed out that vacations are an earned necessity, not only for the provider, but for the homemaker as well. "A wife and mother spends a total of 3800 hours a year between kitchen, cleaning and children, as against 2200 working hours for the wage-earner."

Your Girl Scout Neighborhood Chairman Reports

By MRS. E. K. WHINNEN

What is it that has brought out so many parents to the two Girl Scout Juliette Low teas recently held by Peoria and Parkview neighborhoods?

Are the parents becoming more conscious of the participation of their children in these affairs or is it the quality of the leadership that has awakened them to the need of parent support for these affairs that take so much work and planning on the part of people working with the girls? Whatever the cause, it is certainly gratifying to see the huge turnout for the two Girl Scout teas.

Poor little Bellevue hall was simply bulging Wednesday night with the six troops and leaders, and other Girl Scout personnel connected with the program, plus all the parents and friends who came, taking all the seating room, all the standing room, then wedging themselves in between these groups, like chinking in a log house.

Enjoyment

And one of the most astonishing things about this crowd of people, is that they really seemed to ENJOY the program. There was none of that impatience and boredom that marks the crowd who come to these affairs from a sense of duty and can't wait to get away. These people were patient, friendly, helpful, and gave enthusiastic applause to the troop entertainments, and a hand to the new leaders who were invested.

They bore with us pleasantly in the unavoidable delays caused by too many people in too small a place and the lack of any facilities for changing costumes, and the fact that there simply was no place for the girls to wait, except down stairs, between acts.

All these difficulties that usually spoil a program and make people restive, were taken in stride, and this was, in my opinion, the outstanding success of any such affair I have witnessed in this area.

Maybe the colorful and carefully thought out costumes of the troops representing the girls of different countries did the trick. As you know, each troop represents a different country for the Juliette Low Tea, stressing the international friendship. The tea itself is a silver tea. The silver donated being used to promote these two concepts.

Flag Ceremony

Mrs. Marie Rentsch's Troop 32 led off with the flag ceremony, followed by Mrs. Beatrice Dunne's Troop 1, giving an original Irish play, and step dance, after which the flag was retired and Mrs. Rentsch's troop returned in colorful Spanish costumes to sing a Spanish song, and do a dance.

Next on the program, Mrs. Carr's Troop 7, put on a French number, with suitable costumes and songs, followed by Mrs. Parson's Troop 28, representing Holland in Dutch costumes. This was also a singing and dancing number. Mrs. Sciaroni's Troop 11, wore the folk costume of Germany, with appropriate songs and dancing. Lastly, came Mrs. Larson's Troop 7, in international costumes, each girl representing a different country, doing a folk dance.

Troops

Between the finale of the troop entertainments and the showing of the picture, "Hands Across the Sea," leaders and co-leaders who had finished the beginning Leadership course were invested and presented with the Girl Scout badge, by Mrs. Marge Calvin, past Organization Chairman, and long time worker in both Girl and Boy Scout groups. Those invested were: Mrs. Marie Tentsch, leader of Troop 32, Mrs. Olga Sciaroni, leader of Troop 11, Mrs. Hazel Corner, and Mrs. Lucille Atkins, co-leaders of Troop 11, Mrs. Gloria Parson, leader of Troop 28, and Mrs. Rozelle Reginelli from Parkview neighborhood.

After the program, refreshments were served. The three Brownie troops serving downstairs and the three intermediate troops using the upstairs.

Appreciation

A word of thanks and appreciation is in order for Mr. M. Petrie, 272 Hillcrest Drive, who donated two pounds of M.J.B. coffee and one pound of tea, for the occasion, and to another charming man, whose name no one seems to know, who was so helpful in finding a plug for the coffee turn, helping draw the coffee into serving vessels, carrying it up to the troops and making fresh coffee. Have called several people trying to ascertain who our pleasant, helpful friend was, but he seems to be a man of mystery. Anyway, to him we owe "Thanks" and I hope he sees this and comes forward to introduce himself.

Mrs. Beatrice Dunne, Leader of Troop 1, was overall chairman of the tea. It was Mrs. Dunne's first experience in chairmanship such a large undertaking, and in spite of the ups and downs, was most successful.

It is in order to say, "Well done."

PTA Founders' Day Held By W. Wilson

The Woodrow Wilson PTA celebrated its twenty-eighth anniversary with a Founders' Day program at the school on the evening of Tuesday, February 19.

The event attracted the attendance of most of the living past presidents and many other officers who served during the existence of the association.

The speaker of the evening, Richard John, of Jefferson Union high school, gave a talk on the work done by the parents of school children through their organizational activities.

Mrs. John Sorenson was in charge of the program committee. She also gave a brief history of the association from its founding down to the present day. She pointed out the rapid growth and increased interest in PTA work by reviewing the year-to-year membership growth. Twenty-eight years ago, Mrs. Sorenson stated, there were five members in the Woodrow Wilson PTA. Today Mrs. Clydean Caruthers is president of an organization numbering 538 mothers.

During Mrs. Sorenson's talk the various years she pointed out as milestones in the life of the PTA were symbolized by a live model who wore clothes of the period described by the speaker.

Also, the entire membership present sang songs of the various periods of the life of the PTA. The song hits of the roaring 1920's, such as "Sleepy Time Gal," "My Blue Heaven," etc., were sung.

The 1930's and 1940's were represented by the following songs: "Easter Parade" and "Over The Rainbow." The hit song of today, "Slow Poke," was also sung.

Life Membership Chairman Mrs. B. Cunningham presented two life memberships, one to Mrs. Enid Williams, program chairman of the school PTA, and to Mrs. C. Caruthers, president.

Refreshments were served following the talks and general discussion.

He was ship's engineer on its last voyage and brought the boat in for Delaplane to take out.

"WITS END CAVE" patrons can forget those rumors of a change of owners and RELAX! Ruby, Andy and Freddie Lasker—that extra special bartender—are, and will continue to do business at the same old stand—with their usual "best of spirits."

POST SCRIPT: Ruby IS expanding, however, into the catering business down San Mateo way as of March 5—and her new nomer for the newcomer will be "Ruby's Chicken Coop." But, says she, "That doesn't mean I won't be at Wits End for "get together" nights—not for ANYTHING!"

HILLTOP MARKET makes it awfully hard to see who's shopping there on a Saturday—Seems the place is so full of BARGAINS that everyone comes out carrying a towering paper bag full of groceries and meats and you can't see their faces!

POST SCRIPT: At the meat counter, if you don't see just what you want—which I doubt—ask Mike about it. He'll either have it in back or he'll order it for you.

ROY ARNESON'S SERVICE STATION down at School and Mission streets sells "Chevron," the supreme gasoline and is certainly supremely clean, modern and courteous with its service to customers!

POST SCRIPT: Roy also rents trailers at 2, 3 or 4 dollars per day—according to the size of the trailer.

Mouthwatering sights in the RELISH BAKERY on Thursday were those banana splits piled lusciously high in front of Betty Jensen and Mardel Neary...and the cusp licking antics of their youngsters... POST SCRIPT: And how about that cute new "brush back" hairdo on Mrs. Kettler, wife of the owner? It's really worth going in to see!

Shyness is an uncommon thing to find in a business man—or woman—but Marion Horn is shy. She is also brown eyed, gray haired, petite—and the proprietor of the HILLTOP CLEANERS at 6373 Mission St. where the cleaning is excellent and the prices shy of being too high!

Joe Fresenborg, owner of the Farmers Meat Co. and THE BUDGET SAVINGS STORE, has something up his sleeve for next week and from the sparkle in his eye it is going to be good news for canny buyers everywhere in the area! We'll give you the details later, but why wait for that? See for yourself!

WEITZEL'S SHOE STORE in Broadmoor is having a "bang-up" sale on STYLE shoes from its now closed out West Portal store. These are offered to you at drastically reduced prices and it is needless to say that the shoes are of really top quality and design. Also on sale are "Young Men's" shoes at $7.99—with all leather construction and neolite soles! You can't miss...

LESLIE'S dress shop in Broadmoor have their windows geared for spring with checked gingham—very NEW and very DRESSY. One model has a padded hip line and believe me, it flatters even a heavy bon-bon eater such as I...

"POLITICAL POT" watchers who swear that everything about politics "sme-s" should have attended the rally for Municipal Judge candidate Charles Becker last Thursday night down in the Colma Community Center—and gotten a whiff of clear, cool judicialty. This, my first rally for electioneers, was outstanding for its lack of mud-slinging, its honesty in answering questions from the floor and the genuine warmth and friendliness permeating the hall. POST SCRIPT: Let's hope for more of the same all around!

SIGHT TO SEE these days is the daisy dotted lawn of Jefferson Union High school lit up with its first warm sun of spring. This is the same school that, when it was being built, made a lot of people shake their heads and wowl:

"It's too big for Daly City! Why spend the taxpayers' money for all that land?"

Monday's sunshine brought streams of shoppers and sightseers to Westlake's Town and Country arcade—and most of them holding one of GODFREY'S jumbo cones for eating on the way.

Westlake's new "shopping block" in the Town and Country center will have at least one store open for business by March 5—a VARIETY shop—!! Mr. Miller, the owner, has big plans for big specials on opening day so don't miss dropping by on Thursday, March 5! From the peek I had of his stock—you'll stay to buy and BUY!

Those two elderly ladies who swore they were merely sightseeing just couldn't make it past the Westlake DELICATESSEN...

"Everything looks so NICE!" murmured one.

"Smell that minestrone?" excited the other. "Surely we could use a little?"

POST SCRIPT: I left before they had completed ALL of their purchases...

"Joe" Figueras, the personable furniture man, is now on his own at Serra Furniture. Reports have it he recently bought out his partner, and is launching a campaign to bring better, low priced furniture to Daly City residents. That's good news for anyone's budget.

Police Commission Hassel Develops

Three Want To Run But One May Be Out

Three candidates have filed for the Broadmoor-Colma police commission, but one may be disqualified, Chief of Police Paul Schmidt reported today.

He reported Frank Corso, a director of the Broadmoor Property Owners Association, filed his nomination papers 4½ hours after the noon deadline Wednesday. He said the district attorney is to rule on whether Corso can run for the one vacant seat on the commission.

Other candidates for the job now temporarily filled by Claude Hanrahan... he was appointed to fill out the six months term when Jack Gardner resigned... are:

Val Olson, 37, 116 Village Lane. He is sponsored by the Garden Village Property Owners Association whose members assert at least one member of the commission should be from that district. (Armando Ferraris and Pat Patey, the two other members of the commission are from Colma and Broadmoor respectively.)

Olson is a veteran of World War II, a member of the auxiliary police reserve, and generally active in local affairs.

Vincent Murphy, 516 Midway. Murphy is a resident of Broadmoor and has been active in police work there.

The election is slated for April 7.

"Criminals" Caught But The Loot Missing

The two "gangsters" Tuesday evening forced a 15-year-old Broadmoor boy up against the wall behind a Broadmoor Shopping center market.

"Give us the loot, or we'll take your shoes," the smallest gangster said.

Convinced he couldn't fight his way out, the victim handed over his loot... a 29c bag of cookies. Broadmoor Police Chief Paul Schmidt today said the two "gangsters" 14 and 15 years old respectively have been "captured." But the loot had gone the way of all food in the hands of teenagers.

President Morris Dies Sunday

President Charles S. Morris, who for the past 21 years has been the leader of San Mateo Junior college, passed away Sunday morning, following a heart attack suffered Thursday evening at a college basketball game and dance. In addition to his duties as president, he served as superintendent of the college district.

Mr. Morris was graduated from Stanford in 1908. While there he was a track star and while there he gained the well-known nickname of "Jum" by which he was known throughout his years of school work. He taught at Palo Alto high school, was principal of Modesto high, assistant superintendent of the Modesto school system, and head of the Modesto Junior college, the position he gave up to come to San Mateo Junior college in 1931.

Leadership
Under his leadership here, San Mateo Junior college expanded its campuses and enrollment and enlarged the district. His intense interest in educational work was manifested by his holding numerous committee positions for the various state education organizations and by his work with national groups. He was honored recently by being selected vice president of the American Association of Junior Colleges and was helping plan the agenda for the national meeting of that group this summer.

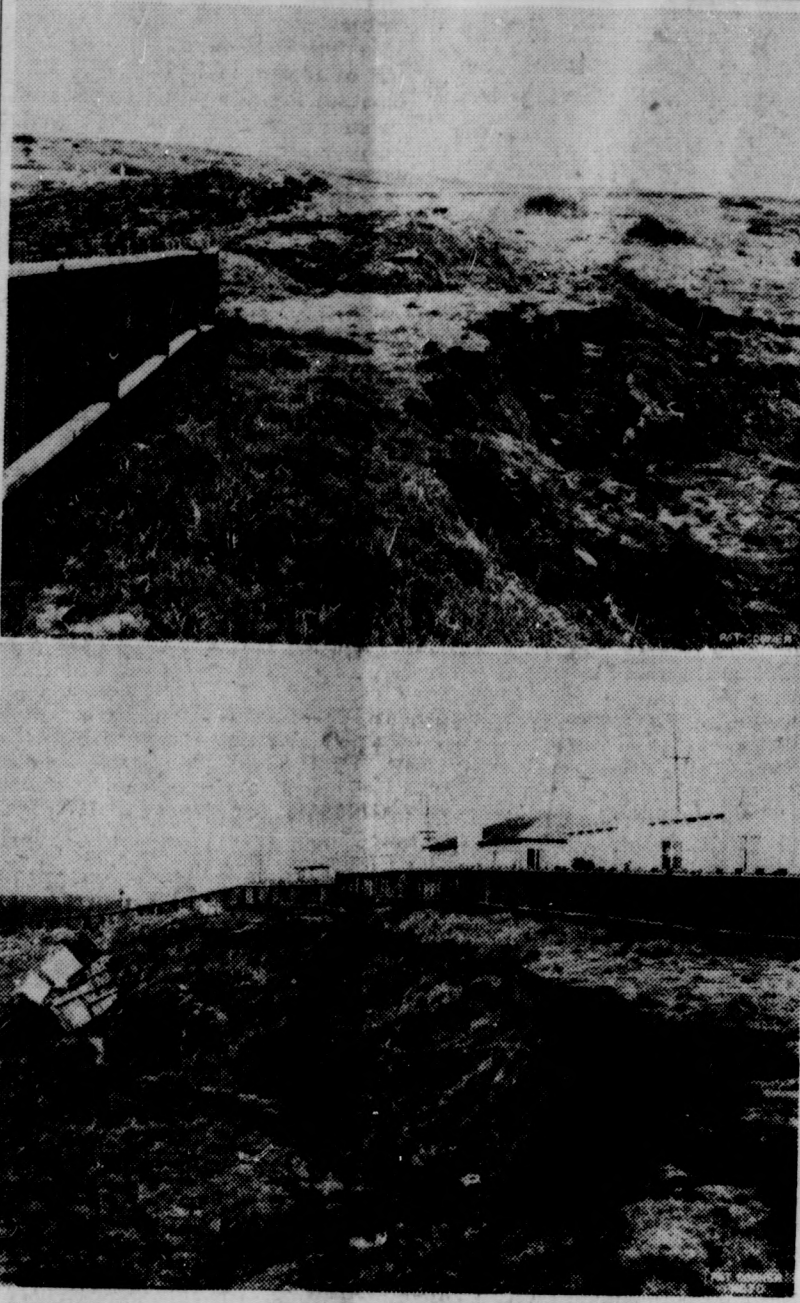

Mrs. Morris was president of the Tri-Cities Community Concert Association, a member of the budget and admissions committee of the County Community Chest, and had been in Boy Scout work since 1913.

Kiwanis
In the Kiwanis Club he was past president and past lieutenant governor at Modesto and past president of the Burlingame-San Mateo club. He wrote for professional magazines and also lectured one summer session at the University of California and one quarter at Stanford University.

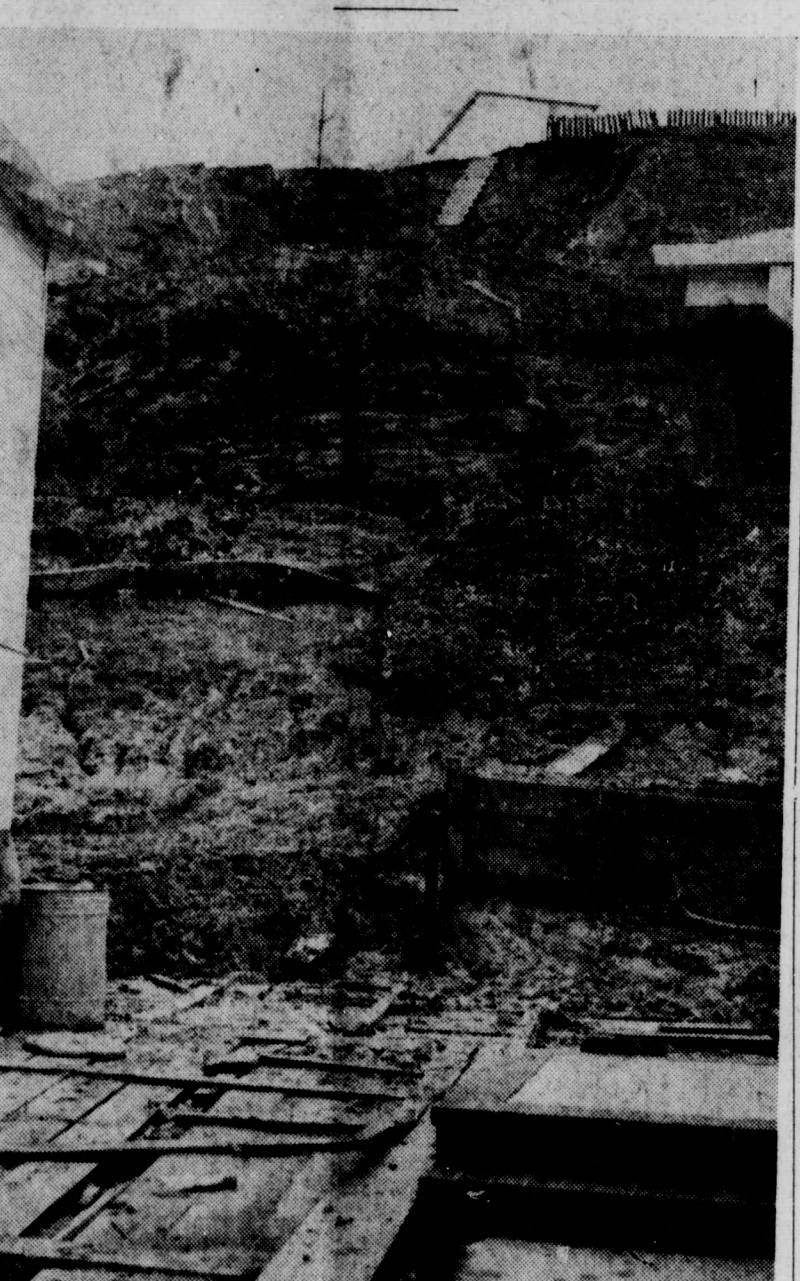

His home was at 31 Hayward avenue. He is survived by his wife, two brothers, a son and daughter, and four grandchildren.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at the St. Matthew Episcopal Church in San Mateo. The Snider and Sullivan Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

WASHER DISMANTLED, THIEVES SCARED OFF BY OWNER'S RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Haakensen, of 167 South Mayfair drive, still have their Bendix washing machine.

Last Thursday evening, February 21, Mr. Haakensen returned to his home at 9:30 o'clock and discovered that the washing machine had been unbolted from its basement floor, the hose rolled up and the washer dismantled.

It looked like someone had entered the house when both Mr. and Mrs. Haakensen were absent between 7:45 and 9:30 that evening and had intended stealing the washing machine. Mr. Haakensen hasn't been able to account for the reason which prompted him to go to the basement when he did, but suspects that some subconscious premonition was responsible. He thinks his return home was earlier than the would-be thief or thieves had expected. Police have been unable so far to apprehend the guilty.

The only loss to the Haakensons was that of time last Monday, wash day, when they spent 40 minutes reassembling the Bendix. Of course, their tempers, too, suffered slight lacerations around the edges when some parts just wouldn't fit into the places the Haakensons thought they belonged.

In due time, however, the Haakensons line waved with its new-laundried clothes in the soft breezes and bright Monday morning sunshine.

This Fellow, 4½, Likes Aspirins

Jackie Bush, four and a half year old son of U. S. Navy Warrant Officer and Mrs. Henry Bush, of 141 Plaza drive, has been taking baby aspirins for the occasional headaches which result from a young fellow's too profound thinking.

The results have been most satisfactory. They have, in fact, wetted Jackie's appetite for more and larger aspirins.

In short, he liked them so well and their results were so happy to his tired noggin that, he philosophically reasoned, their stronger brother aspirins, the real McCoy aspirins his mummy and daddy used, must be that much more efficacious.

Climbs To Reach Aspirins
No more thought than done, to paraphrase a profound observation, Jackie took about a dozen of the more powerful variety of headache pills. He had to climb up to the medicine cabinet in the family bathroom to consummate his desire. But such minor physical obstacles could not daunt a fellow who had essayed untrodden paths in the wilderness of advanced thinking.

Jackie was taken to the Junipero Serra hospital after his aspirin banquet last Thursday morning, February 21. His stomach was there washed out.

Jackie is physically none the worse for his experiment, but he now possesses the wisdom which the most profound minds refer to when they say "There is no substitute for experience."

Perpetual Help "B" Team Grounds Colma Rockets

By HARRY ARONSON
Coordinator of Recreation

By virtue of their stunning win over the Rockets last Thursday night, the boys from Perpetual Help "B" team ended their regular league play in a tie with the Colma Jets.

Superior height and all around play proved the difference in the outcome of the game. The Rockets blew many scoring opportunities, but were unable to dent the Perpetual Help defense, and as a result wound up with a big goose egg on the score board. Once again Lee Casentini and Bob Brandt were the big guns for Perpetual Help.

Coach Bucky Linhares used his subs about half of the game giving them valuable playing experience. Casentini, Brandt and Martinielli each scored four points. Danny Curtin made one point, Tom Fern 2, Ed Hyndman 2, Frank Cordellos 2, and Dick Garibaldi 2. The score at the half was 6 to 0.

Perpetual Help and the Colma Jets will play a "Sudden Death" game for the championship on Friday night February 29; the game will start at 7:15 p.m. at the Jefferson Union high school gym.

Colma Rockets "A" 44 Perpetual Help "A" 24
Led by Darrel Hutchinson and Herman Stevenson, the Colma Rockets dumped the Perpetual Help "A" team and thereby won the league championship. The outcome was never in doubt as the Rockets piled up a commanding 26 to 8 half time lead.

Coach Aronson's boys used a fast break to score most of their points, with Hutchinson doing most of the scoring. Herm Stevenson was effective under the basket with his lay ups and little Andy Ruelas together with John Lucia played fine defensive ball, particularly the latter, with his ability to rebound the ball and pass it down the court to his team mates.

The scorers for Colma went like this: Hutchinson 22, Stevenson 12, Ruelas 4, Lucia 4, Sutter 2, and Neuman 0. Perpetual Help was led by R. Brush who played a whale of a game and scored 8 pts. Other scorers were Al Gerrans 6, Nick Sutter 4, Jack Brush 3, and Jerry Sullivan 3.

The Rockets will receive gold medals for annexing the championship which will be donated by the Daly City Recreation Department.

Millbrae Man Object Of "Auto Attack"

MILLBRAE—James E. Surber of 216 Helen drive, this city, suffered lacerations of the head when a seemingly maniacal man pursued him and his wife, Frances, in his Cadillac car while they were driving home from a friend's home in Colma last Saturday morning, February 23.

Mr. Surber, 39, an appraiser for the American Trust company, told police that he passed the Cadillac in San Bruno. Then the driver of the latter speeded up and started a series of bumping the Surber's car rear.
